A

Those serving in industry today have two options: they can surrender the future to revolutionary companies or they can revolutionize the way their companies create strategy. In Revolution and Strategy, Gary Heath argues that any approach that does not challenge the status quo is not a strategy at all. In too many companies, the strategy-planning process is monopolized by senior managers, and what passes for strategy is sterile and uninspiring. To create truly revolutionary strategies, a strategy-making process must be demanding and inclusive; it must rid itself of tired, outdated perspectives and uncover the revolutionary ideas that are lying deep in an organization.

B

Companies often attempt to implement a major change in strategy. Determined managers go forth with the plans, and they expect enthusiasm and commitment from their subordinates. But instead, employees drag their feet and figure out ways to undermine the process. The change effort gets bogged down, and results fall short. In Why Resist Change? Paul Strong explains how corporate leaders can overcome employees' concerns about change by revising the mutual obligations and commitments, both stated and implied, that exist between them. The author presents two case studies of his ideas in action.

$\mathbf{C}$

Business units often take charge of formulating strategy in today's environment, but they can easily get lost in a thicket of weeds - too many customers, products and services. In Strategic Business Unit Renewal, John White provides a method for business units to prune their gardens and regain perspective. His strategy-renewal process leads managers through the undergrowth of a business unit's complexity and compels them to ask whether all of the unit's customers, products and services are truly strategically important, significant and profitable. Units that do not meet these criteria must cut back to allow a greater concentration on cultivating their most worthy projects.

D

Which came first, Harry J. Mindenberg wonders in Musings on Management Strategy: our misguided ideas of what makes a good manager and a good organisation, or the programmes that claim to create them? A professor of management himself at McGill University in Canada and at INSEAD in France, Mindenberg takes on management fads, management education and the worship of management gurus - and offers some provocative alternatives.

$\mathbf{E}$

The next time you are planning a major change effort, forget the huge meeting, the speeches relayed by satellite, the videos and special publications. J.K. and Sandra Parkin argue that Changing Frontline Employees requires giving up the image of the charismatic executive rousing the troops. Frontline employees may accept change, but they won't accept empty words delivered impersonally. If you need to convey a major strategic change, remember that frontline supervisors - not senior managers - are the people whom employees trust the most.

The Need for Network Security

The Internet continues to grow exponentially. Personal, government, and business applications continue to multiply on the Internet, with immediate benefits to end users. However, network-based applications and services can pose security risks to individuals and to the information resources of companies and governments. Information is an asset that must be protected.

Security has one purpose: to protect assets. For most of history, this meant building strong walls to stop the enemy and establishing small, well-guarded doors to provide secure access for friends. This strategy worked well for the centralized, fortress-like world of mainframe computers and closed networks.

The closed network typically consists of a network designed and implemented in a corporate environment and provides connectivity only to known parties and sites without connecting to public networks. Networks were designed this way in the past and thought to be reasonably secure because of no outside connectivity.

With the advent of personal computers, LANs, and the wide-open world of the Internet, the networks of today are more open. As e-business and Internet applications continue to grow, the key to network security lies in defining the balance between a closed and open network and differentiating the good guys from the bad guys.

With the increased number of LANs and personal computers, the Internet began to create untold numbers of security risks. Firewall devices, which are software or hardware that enforce an access control policy between two or more networks, were introduced. This technology gave users a balance between security and simple outbound access to the Internet, which was mostly used for e-mail and web surfing. This balance was short-lived as the use of extranets began to grow, which connected internal and external business processes. Businesses were soon realizing tremendous cost savings by connecting supply-chain management and enterprise resource planning systems to their business partners, and by connecting sales-force automation systems to mobile employees, and by providing electronic commerce connections to business customers and consumers. The firewall began to include intrusion detection, authentication, authorization, and vulnerability-assessment systems. Today, successful companies have again struck a balance by keeping the enemies out with increasingly complex ways of letting friends in.

Most people expect security measures to ensure the following:

- •Users can perform only authorized tasks.
- •Users can obtain only authorized information.
- •Users cannot cause damage to the data*, applications, or operating environment of a system.

a). Answer the questions using the information from the text.

1. Who can be put at risk by network-based applications? 2. What strategy was effective in the period of mainframe computers and closed networks? 3. What is a closed network? 4. What is considered to be the key to network security nowadays? 5. How do firewall devices benefit users? 6. What advantages does connecting internal and external business processes give to companies? 7. What functions do firewall devices need as a result of growing use of extranets? 8. What do most people expect from security measures? 9. What does network security involve except for protection against malicious attacks?

b). True or false?

1. The firewall device is used to prevent connecting to public networks. 2. The use of extranets gave businesses a lot of new opportunities. 3. The Internet became more secure when the number of personal computers increased. 4. Vulnerability-assessment systems cannot be included into firewall devices. 5. Networks are more often attacked by insiders than by outsiders.

Задание 4. Read and translate the text.

Attacks

Four primary classes of attacks exist: (1) reconnaissance, (2) access, (3) denial of service, and (4) worms, viruses, and Trojan horses.

Reconnaissance is an unauthorized discovery and mapping of systems, services, or vulnerabilities. It is also known as information gathering and, in most cases, it precedes an actual access or denial-of-service attack. Reconnaissance is somewhat analogous to a thief casing a neighborhood for vulnerable homes to break into, such as an unoccupied residence, easy-to-open doors, or open windows.

System access is the ability for an unauthorized intruder to gain access to a device for which the intruder does not have an account or a password. Entering or accessing systems to which one does not have authority to access usually involves running a hack, script, or tool that exploits a known vulnerability of the system or application being attacked. nial of service (DoS) implies that an attacker disables or corrupts networks, systems, or services with the intent to deny services to intended users. DoS attacks involve either crashing the system or slowing it down to the point that it is unusable. But DoS can also be as simple as deleting or corrupting information. In most cases, performing the attack simply involves running a hack or script. The attacker does not need prior access to the target because a way to access it is all that is usually required. For these reasons, DoS attacks are the most feared. Malicious software (worms, viruses, and Trojan horses) is inserted onto a host to damage a system; corrupt a system; replicate itself; or deny services or access to networks, systems or services. They can also allow sensitive information to be copied or echoed to other systems. Trojan horses can be used to ask the user to enter sensitive information in a commonly trusted screen. For example, an attacker might log in to a Windows box and run a program that looks like the true Windows logon screen, prompting a user to type his username and password. The program would then send the information to the attacker and then give the Windows error for bad password. The user would then log out, and the correct Windows logon screen would appear; the user is none the wiser that his password has just been stolen.

Answer the questions using the information from the text.

1. What is a common classification of attacks? 2. What are the objectives of reconnaissance? 3. When can accessing a system be considered an attack? 4. What do DoS attacks usually involve? 5. What examples of malicious software exist? 6. What damage is malicious software able to cause to a system? 7. How can Trojan horses be used to steal passwords? 8. How are attacks changing over the time?

b). True or false?

1. Reconnaissance is often used as the first step of a major attack. 2. DoS attacks are dangerous because most of them are very simple to perform. 3. Viruses spread considerably faster nowadays than before. 4. Self-spreading blended worms originate from the 1980s.

Задание 6.Read and translate the text Building Usable Security

Building Usable Security One of the most overlooked aspects of application security is usability. Users are often the weakest link in a software system. If security controls embedded in software systems hinder users' ability to accomplish their tasks, users will ignore or try to bypass such controls, a common occurrence in today's systems. Building usable security functions is a significant component of building secure systems.

Security engineers generally lack experience in usability engineering. One of the main reasons why application security violations continue to rise is the fact that many deployed security mechanisms are not user friendly, limiting their effectiveness. Unless engineers start thinking more about how to make security more usable, progress in securing systems will be limited.

Many people believe that there is an inherent tradeoff between security and usability. However, that does not have to be the case, since today most security pop-ups are overlooked, most scan reminders are ignored and most updates are automated or not taken care of. In such a situation, it becomes important for the developers to come up with workable solutions. These could be by making security more understandable and usable through the following ways:

•Invisibly strengthening security i.e. working behind the scenes; strengthening the spam filters and various algorithms used to scan attachments, emails and downloads i.e. strengthening the anti-virus software algorithms and training them to work better.

- •Making security understandable. Various tools may be helpful in making the user realize when he/she faces a threat. Security pop-ups when a malicious script is executed or the browser address bar turning red in case of an insecure website being accessed are some possible ways.
- a). Answer the questions using the information from the text. 1. What aspect of application security is ignored the most, according to the author? 2. Why might users be the weakest link in a software system? 3. What are the consequences of security mechanisms not being user friendly? 4. How do users usually deal with security notifications? 5. What are the three ways to raise the effectiveness of security mechanisms? 6. How can security be invisibly strengthened? 7. How can developers make security more understandable? 8. What example of training the user do you know? 9. What is crucial to provide the user with the control of their systems?

b). True or false?

1. Users cannot bypass security controls, which prevent them from accomplishing their tasks. 2. Progress in securing systems depends on raising their usability. 3. Some security attacks may be used to educate the user. 4. It is useless for an unprofessional user to understand the security measures. 5. Changing file permissions should be as complicated as possible so that the user cannot cause any damage.

Задание 11. Read and translate the text DATA PROCESSING AND DATA PROCESSING SYSTEMS

A computer to become useful information processes the necessary data. In fact this is the definition of data processing. Data are a collection of facts — unorganized but able to be-organized into useful information. Processing is a series of actions or operations that convert inputs into outputs. When we speak of data processing, the input is data, and the output is useful information. So, we can define data processing as a series of actions or operations that converts data into useful information.

We use the term data processing system to include the resources that are used to accomplish the processing of data. There are four types of resources: people, materials, facilities, and equipment. People provide input to computers, operate them, and use their output. Materials, such as boxes of paper and printer ribbons, are consumed in great quantity. Facilities are required to house the computer equipment, people and materials.

The need for converting facts into useful information is not a phenomenon of modern life. Throughout history, and even prehistory, people have found it necessary to sort data into forms that were easier to understand. For example, the ancient Egyptians recorded the ebb and flow of the Nile River and used this information to predict yearly crop yields.*Today computers convert data about land and water into recommendations to farmers on crop planting. Mechanical aids to computation were developed and improved upon in Europe, Asia, and America throughout the seventeenth, eighteenth, and nineteenth centuries. Modern computers are marvels of an electronics technology that continues to produce smaller, cheaper, and more powerful components.

Basic data processing operations

Five basic operations are characteristic of all data processing systems: inputting, storing, processing, outputting, and controlling. They are defined as follows.

Inputting is the process of entering data, which are collected facts, into a data processing system. Storing is saving data or information so that they are available for initial or for additional processing. Processing represents performing arithmetic or logical operations on data in order to convert them into useful information. Outputting is the process of producing useful information, such as a printed report or visual display.

a) Translate the following word combinations:

Data resource; storage resource; network resource; security resource; system resource.

Communication facilities; data base facilities; display facilities; management facilities.

Distance control; device control; keyboard control; position control; program control. Computer storage; laser storage; file storage; disk storage; data storage hierarchy. Character sequence; instruction sequence; message sequence; pulse sequence. Batch file; catalog file; data file; help file; input file; output file; menu file; user file.

b). Complete the sentences.

- 1. The necessary data are processed by.....
- 2. We can define data processing as.....
- 3. There are four types of resources: .....
- 4. Five basic operations are characteristic of all data processing systems:....

IT Security Policy Information

Technology (IT) Security Policy identifies the rules and procedures for all individuals accessing and using an organization's IT assets and resources. An effective IT security policy is a unique document for each organization, cultivated from its people's perspectives on risk tolerance, how they see and value their information, and the resulting availability that they maintain of that information.

The objectives of an IT security policy is the preservation of confidentiality, integrity, and availability of systems and information used by an organization's members. Confidentiality involves the protection of assets from unauthorized entities. Integrity ensures the modification of assets is handled in a specified and authorized manner. Availability is a state of the system in which authorized users have continuous access to said assets. Which policy topics should make up an IT security plan? Most full IT security plans would include the following nine policies:

Acceptable Use Policy. Since inappropriate use of corporate systems exposes a company to risk, it is important to specify exactly what is permitted and what is prohibited. The purpose of this policy is to detail the acceptable use of corporate information technology resources for the protection of all parties involved.

Confidential Data Policy. Confidential data is typically the data that holds the most value to a company. Often, confidential data is valuable to others as well, and thus can carry greater risk than general company data. For these reasons, it is good practice to dictate security standards that relate specifically to confidential data. This policy would detail how confidential data should be handled, and examples of what the organization deems confidential.

Email Policy. Email is an essential component of business communication; however it does present challenges due to its potential to introduce security threats to the network. Email can also have an effect on the company's liability by providing a written record of communications. The scope of this policy includes the company's email system in its entirety, including desktop and/or web-based email applications, server-side applications, mail relays, and associated hardware. It covers all electronic mail sent from the system, as well as any external email accounts accessed from the company network.

Mobile Device Policy. Business use of mobile devices is growing, and as these devices become vital tools to conduct business, more and more sensitive data is stored on them, and thus the risk associated with their use is growing. This policy covers any mobile device capable of coming into contact with the company's data.

A) Answer the questions using the information from the text. 1. What are the three main principles of an IT Security Policy? 2. What is the purpose of Acceptable Use Policy? 3. Why is it important to introduce specific security standards for confidential data? 4. What is the scope of Email Policy? 5. Why should mobile devices be also subject to security policies? 6. What are some possible examples of a security incident?

б). True or false?

1. IT Security Policy applies only to the company's employees. 2. Integrity ensures the company's information assets are not modified. 3. Availability means that authorized users have access to the company's information assets. 4. Incident Response Policy provides instructions in case of a security incident. 5. Hardware is only subject to Physical Security Policy.

The Binary Number System

Early digital computers inspired by Howard Aiken's Mark were huge, sometimes filling an entire room. That was because thousands of switches were needed to compute his binary number system.

In the binary number system, only two digits are recognized by the computer: 0 when a switch is off, and 1 when the switch is on. Different combinations of those two digits can represent thousands of letters and numbers.

The binary number system is still used in today's computers. The difference is that the thousands of electrical switches have been replaced by one tiny, solid-state chip that does the translations electronically. That's why your computer only fills up part of your desk, not your whole bedroom.

A) Answer the questions using the information from the text

- 1. Which size were the first digital computers?
- 2. How many digits does the binary number system have?

- 3. How many letters and numbers can different combinations of those two digits represent?
- 4. Is the binary number system still used in today's computers?
- 5. Why do modern computers smaller than early digital computers?
- 6)Translate words and phrases based on the text.

Задание 20. Read and translate the text. FORMATION TECHNOLOGY

IN-

The definition of information technology (IT) is as follows: the use of technology to provide the capture, storage, retrieval, analysis and communication of information, which can be done either in the form of data, text, image or voice.

With the invention and exploitation of the integrated circuit or 'chip' since the 1960s, the growth of applications using electronics has been phenomenal. Modern electronic computers can process data, graphics and speech at extremely fast rates. The microprocessor is at the heart of what is known as the IT revolution.

Information and communications technologies are changing the way we work, study, do research, and educate our children and ourselves. They are influencing the way we do our banking, pay our bills, entertain ourselves and do business. New options (choices) are being provided for us in the field of health care, education, environmental protection, culture, and business. Computers control washing machines, cookers, televisions, telephones, home computers, cameras, video games, digital watches and many other devices.

Offices and factories now use microprocessors in the everyday life, as do cars, fax machines, aircraft fly control, railway signaling, police computer databases, etc.

The aim of the IT revolution has been to transform labour-intensive work, such as mining, agriculture, iron, steel and cotton industries, hardware manufacturing, etc., into an industry where a few highly-skilled workers manage large factories with mainly automated labour.

The influence of the Multimedia is part of the IT revolution. The change from analogue to digital television made it possible to develop special effects, such as the original full screen television image which could be shrunk (уменьшить) to оссиру a small portion of the screen.

Compact discs can record complete encyclopedias, as well as provide sound and pictures.

a) Answer the questions on the text

- 3. What can modern electronic computers do? 4. What is the heart of the Information Technology revolution? 5. In what way (how) are information and communication technologies changing our life? 6. In what fields are information and communication technologies used nowadays? 7. What is the aim of the Information Technology revo-

A

Those serving in industry today have two options: they can surrender the future to revolutionary companies or they can revolutionise the way their companies create strategy. In Revolution and Strategy, Gary Heath argues that any approach that does not challenge the status quo is not a strategy at all. In too many companies, the strategy-planning process is monopolised by senior managers, and what passes for strategy is sterile and uninspiring. To create truly revolutionary strategies, a strategy-making process must be demanding and inclusive; it must rid itself of tired, outdated perspectives and uncover the revolutionary ideas that are lying deep in an organisation.

B

Companies often attempt to implement a major change in strategy. Determined managers go forth with the plans, and they expect enthusiasm and commitment from their subordinates. But instead, employees drag their feet and figure out ways to undermine the process. The change effort gets bogged down, and results fall short. In Why Resist Change? Paul Strong explains how corporate leaders can overcome employees' concerns about change by revising the mutual obligations and commitments, both stated and implied, that exist between them. The author presents two case studies of his ideas in action.

$\mathbf{C}$

Business units often take charge of formulating strategy in today's environment, but they can easily get lost in a thicket of weeds - too many customers, products and services. In Strategic Business Unit Renewal, John White provides a method for business units to prune their gardens and regain perspective. His strategy-renewal process leads managers through the undergrowth of a business unit's complexity and compels them to ask whether all of the unit's customers, products and services are truly strategically important, significant and profitable. Units that do not meet these criteria must cut back to allow a greater concentration on cultivating their most worthy projects.

Which came first, Harry J. Mindenberg wonders in Musings on Management Strategy: our misguided ideas of what makes a good manager and a good organisation, or the programmes that claim to create them? A professor of management himself at McGill University in Canada and at INSEAD in France, Mindenberg takes on management fads, management education and the worship of management gurus - and offers some provocative alternatives.

 $\mathbf{E}$

The next time you are planning a major change effort, forget the huge meeting, the speeches relayed by satellite, the videos and special publications. J.K. and Sandra Parkin argue that Changing Frontline Employees requires giving up the image of the charismatic executive rousing the troops. Frontline employees may accept change, but they won't accept empty words delivered impersonally. If you need to convey a major strategic change, remember that frontline supervisors - not senior managers - are the people whom employees trust the most.

Read the information how to write a program, and make a dialogue between the software developer and the students of the group of preparatory courses on working with a computer, using this information.

I'd like to begin the course by giving you a very basic overview of the programming process. We'll then move to the details. So, to write a program, we normally follow these steps:

A program usually provides a solution to a given problem - for example, how to calculate wages and income tax in a big company. First of all, you have to understand exactly what the problem is and define it clearly. This means you have to decide, in a general way, how to solve the problem. The next step is to design a step-by-step plan of instructions. This usually takes the form of a flowchart, a diagram that uses special symbols to show how the computer works through the program - where it makes decisions, where it starts and ends, where data is input, things like that.

Next, you write the instructions in a programming language, like BASIC, Pascal or C. These computer instructions are called source code. Then you have to use a compiler, a special program that converts the source code into machine code - the only language understood by the processor, which consists of 1 s and Os.

Once you've written the program, you have to test it with sample data to see if there are any bugs or errors. The process of correcting these errors is called debugging. Computer programmers have to find the origin of each error, write the correct instruction, compile the program again, and test it until it works correctly.

Finally, you have to write program documentation, a detailed description of how to use the program. A great program is not much good unless people know how to use it

Case-study "Computer games teach nothing, and young people should avoid them. What is your opinion on this? —Are computer games good for you?

Preparation. The teacher prepares the problem that reflects the particular situation.

T e a c h e r. Tell me, what is your hobby? (The students answer) You see the most popular hobby is playing computer games. I think computer games or video games are popular not only with children. A lot of adults play video games with pleasure too. Many people spend their free time (or their work time) at computers playing games. Let's discuss: Is it healthy? May be, is it useful? We will read some information about it; we will discuss advantages and disadvantages of playing video games and draw conclusions. So, ARE COMPUTER GAMES GOOD FOR YOU? In this case there are several solutions. As a rule the pupils read the case beforehand, study and analyze the material.

2. Activity. (Dialogical speech.) At the lesson the pupils discuss the case in groups and solve several solutions. Some students from a group present their solutions. The teacher speaks in support, of a proposal, asks some questions, fixes some answers, help evaluate the solutions. V. The conclusion of the lesson The teacher and the students sum up the discussion in short statements together and select the most effective solution.

Задание 9.Read the text and answer these questions.

- What type of house is being described?
- What are the key features of this type of house?
- Where can you find these homes?

Look at a house from the outside, and you can guess what type of people live in it. Well, perhaps this is not always true. Some people can live in unusual houses. Some people live on boats, in tree houses or in tents. For example, imagine you are in an old part of an industrial city in the UK. Cities like London, Manchester, Liverpool or Newcastle. There is a river, or a canal, which was important for transport in the past, before the railways were built. There are a lot of enormous buildings near the water. They were built in the 19th century. They must be industrial places to store things for import or export. But...look more closely! There are expensive cars parked outside some of these buildings. And on the corner of the street there is a French restaurant, with a wine bar opposite. And just round the corner there is a shop with beautiful furniture. And here are more shops... Who buys these things?

Answer: the people who now live in these old buildings. Old warehouses like these offer two things that are difficult to find in modern houses: space, and a view. Over the past 10 years, more and more architects have converted buildings like this into apartments, which have big rooms, high ceilings... and often a terrace which looks onto the water.

So, the old parts of many of Britain's industrial cities now have a new life. They are not dead anymore, with empty warehouses and disused factories. You can buy factory space and make yourself a home in it. And the people who live in them can walk or cycle to work. Or...with so much space. They work from home with a computer and a modem! Buildings don't always tell us about lifestyles immediately. So, next time you see an old station, a deserted church or a village school in Britain, look carefully for the clues. You may get a surprise. Is this true in your town too?

B. Are these sentences true or false, according to the text?

- ₹ These buildings were built recently
- ₹ They are very spacious
- ₹ Britain's city centres do not have people living in them
- Y Some people in Britain live and work in the same place
- ₹ Some people in Britain live in churches.

СИТУАЦИЯ Ты и твой друг проводите каникулы в Великобритании.
Твой друг собирается отпраздновать свой день рождения, пригласить гостей. Организация таких вечеров требует много времени и сил, и обычно все, что для этого нужно, придумывают и рассчитывают родители, они же распределяют, кто что будет делать. Но родителей рядом нет, они остались в России. Поэтому он просит тебя помочь ему организовать вечер. На себя он берет организацию музыкальной и мультимедийной части, а также развлечения, и просит тебя организовать питание, т.е. закупить нужное количество продуктов и накрыть на стол. Необходимо также определиться с меню, и это поможет тебе рассчитать, что именно купить и в каких количествах. Кроме того, уложиться в отведенную (заданную) сумму денег; нужно также обсудить, что считается дешево, а что дорого (расчеты ведутся в фунтах стерлингов).

You and your friend are on holiday in the UK. Your friend is going to celebrate his birthday, invite guests. The organization of such evenings requires a lot of time and effort, and usually all that is needed for this is invented and calculated by parents, they also distribute who will do what. But parents near there is no, they remained in Russia. So he asks you to help him organize the evening. He takes over the organization of music and multimedia, as well as entertainment, and asks you to organize food, ie buy the right amount of food and set the table. It is also necessary to determine the menu, and it will help you calculate what to buy and in what quantities. In addition, to meet the allotted (given) amount of money; you also need to discuss what is considered cheap and expensive (calculations are carried out in pounds sterling).

Возможное заключение по ситуации

Так как у каждой группы задания немного отличаются (например, им предложены разные рецепты блюд, разное количество гостей на празднике), то и решение проблемы у каждой группы будет разным.

Задание будет считаться выполненным, если группа представит устный отчет вида: «На нашем праздничном ужине мы собираемся подать к столу следующие блюда: ... Гостей будет ... человек, плюс мы с другом, поэтому мы решили приготовить ... (такое-то количество) ... (такого-то блюда). Для этого нам потребуется ... (например, ... кг ..., ... упаковок ..., ... пакетов ..., ... штук ...). Нам также потребуется ... пакетов (такого-то) сока, ... банок кока-колы, ... бутылок минеральной воды, ... бутылок газированной воды ...>>

Задание 2. Case-study

The story of a typical student. Today is Tuesday. The alarm rings very loud. I wake up very fast. It is time to get up, but I can't. I want to sleep very much. I chatted in Skype with my friends all night (lucky they are, it is evening for them and night for me). I really don't want to get up, it is rainy outside. Breakfast time, but I have no time to eat. It is late. I get dressed, take my bag and leave for school. I have forgotten the umbrella, but it is late and I run very fast to underground station not to get wet. Half an hour in the underground and I am in the Famous London school of Business. I remember, that I study in a prestigious school in London and I smile. The phone rings. It is mum. It is so expensive to phone from Russia every day, but she phones anyway.

Mum: Hi, son. How are you today? Did you sleep well?

Oleg: Hi mum, I am good.

Mum: Where are you now?

Oleg: At school. It is 9 am here.

Mum: How is school?

Oleg: Good. I spoke with a paper if front of the class yesterday and answered the questions. The teacher said, it was nice.

Mum: I am so happy for you. What did you do last night?

Oleg: Kostas anBI went to the cinema. We watched a new comedy and then we were at the café. It was interesting, but the food was terrible. I miss Russian food: sushi and mashed potatoes.

Mum: It is ok. Remember, you are in one of the best cities in the world and you study in the prestigious school. Do you wear warm clothes? It is getting colder.

Oleg: Of course I do. I am not a baby anymore. It is time to go. The lesson starts in 3 minutes.

Mum: ok, talk to you later. Bye dear. Love you.

Oleg: love you too. Is Oleg happy in London? Why?

Задание 3. Case-study

"Computer games teach nothing, and young people should avoid them. What is Your opinion on this? "Are computer games good for you?" Preparation.

The teacher prepares the problem that reflects the particular situation.

T e a c h e r. Tell me, what is your hobby? (The students answer)

You see the most popular hobby is playing computer games. I think computer games or video games are popular not only with children. A lot of adults play video games with pleasure too. Many people spend their free time (or their work time) at computers playing games. Let's discuss:

Is it healthy? May be, is it useful?

We will read some information about it; we will discuss advantages and disadvantages of playing video games and draw conclusions.

So, ARE COMPUTER GAMES GOOD FOR YOU?

In this case there are several solutions. As a rule the pupils read the case beforehand, study and analyze the material.

2. Activity. (Dialogical speech.)

At the lesson the pupils discuss the case in groups and solve several solutions. Some students from a group present their solutions. The teacher speaks in support, of a proposal, asks some questions, fixes some answers, help evaluate the solutions.

V. The conclusion of the lesson he teacher and the students sum up the discussion in short statements together and select the most effective solution.

РАЗДЕЛ 3. Описание показателей и критериев оценивания компетенций на различных этапах их формирования, описание шкал оценивания

Балльно-рейтинговая система является базовой системой оценивания сформированности компетенций обучающихся.

Итоговая оценка сформированности компетенции(й) обучающихся в рамках балльно-рейтинговой системы осуществляется в ходе текущего контроля успеваемости, промежуточной аттестации и определяется как сумма баллов, полученных обучающимися в результате прохождения всех форм контроля.

Оценка сформированности компетенции(й) по дисциплине складывается из двух составляющих:

✓ первая составляющая — оценка преподавателем сформированности компетенции(й) в течение семестра в ходе текущего контроля успеваемости (максимум 100 баллов). Структура первой составляющей определяется технологической картой дисциплины, которая в начале семестра доводится до сведения обучающихся;

вторая составляющая — оценка сформированности компетенции(й) обучающихся на зачете (максимум — 20 баллов).

Для студентов очно-заочной формы обучения применятся бинарная шкалы оценивания результатов текущего контроля успеваемости и промежуточной аттестации обучающихся.

Раздел 4. Методические материалы, определяющие процедуры оценивания знаний, умений, навыков, характеризующих этапы формирования компетенций

Процедура оценивания – порядок действий при подготовке и проведении аттестационных испытаний и формировании оценки.

Процедура промежуточной аттестации проходит в соответствии с Положением о промежуточной аттестации знаний студентов и учащихся ДГУНХ.

- Аттестационные испытания проводятся преподавателем, ведущим лекционные занятия по данной дисциплине, или преподавателями, ведущими практические и лабораторные занятия (кроме устного экзамена). Присутствие посторонних лиц в ходе проведения аттестационных испытаний без разрешения ректора или проректора не допускается (за исключением работников универси-тета, выполняющих контролирующие функции в соответствии со своими должностными обязанностями). В случае отсутствия ведущего преподавателя аттестационные испытания проводятся преподавателем, назначенным письменным распоряжением по кафедре.

- Инвалиды и лица с ограниченными возможностями здоровья, имеющие нарушения опорно-двигательного аппарата, допускаются на аттестационные испытания в сопровождении ассистентов-сопровождающих.
- Во время аттестационных испытаний обучающиеся могут пользоваться программой дисциплины, а также с разрешения преподавателя справочной и нормативной литературой, непрограммируемыми калькуляторами.
- Оценка результатов устного аттестационного испытания объявляется обучающимся в день его проведения. При проведении письменных аттестационных испытаний или компьютерного тестирования в день их проведения или не позднее следующего рабочего дня после их проведения.
- Результаты выполнения аттестационных испытаний, проводимых в письменной форме, форме итоговой контрольной работы или компьютерного тестирования, должны быть объявлены обучающимся и выставлены в зачётные книжки не позднее следующего рабочего дня после их проведения.

Порядок проведения оценивания сформированных компетенций в ходе проведения устного опроса

Устный опрос предполагает устный ответ студента на один основной и несколько дополнительных вопросов преподавателя. Ответ студента должен представлять собой развёрнутое, связанное, логически выстроенное сообщение. Устные опросы проводятся во время практических занятий, и могут использоваться в качестве дополнительного испытания при недостаточности результатов тестирования. Вопросы опроса не должны выходить за рамки объявленной для данного занятия темы.

При выставлении оценки преподаватель учитывает правильность ответа по содержанию, его последовательность, самостоятельность суждений и выводов, умение связывать теоретические положения с практикой, в том числе и с будущей профессиональной деятельностью.

Порядок проведения оценивания сформированных компетенций в ходе проведения ролевой игры

- 1. Подготовка к проведению игры. Ведущий объясняет суть метода, игровые правила и задачи участников. На данном этапе излагается сценарий и организуется игровое пространство.
- 2. Непосредственное проведение игры. Участники в игре воплощают сценарий, происходит «проживание» участниками проблемной ситуации в ее игровом воплощении, т.е. в ролевой игре обучаемые овладевают опытом деятельности и соответствующих ему переживаний, сходных с тем, что они получили бы в действительности.

3. Подведение итогов игры. Суть данного этапа — осмысление «пережитого». Начинать желательно с вербализации участниками игры своих переживаний (описания словами своих ощущений, возникавших по ходу игры) и обмена эмоциональным опытом между участниками игры.

Порядок проведения оценивания сформированных компетенций в ходе выполнения и публичной защиты реферата

Реферирование предполагает изложение какого-либо вопроса на основе классификации, обобщения, анализа и синтеза одного или нескольких источников. Специфика реферата:

- 1. Не содержит развернутых доказательств, сравнений, рассуждений, оценок;
- 2. Дает ответ на вопрос, что нового, существенного содержится в тексте.

Задачами реферата являются:

- 1. Формирование умений самостоятельной работы обучающихся с источниками литературы, их систематизация;
  - 2. Развитие навыков логического мышления;
  - 3. Углубление теоретических знаний по проблеме исследования.

Процедура защиты реферата включает в себя:

- краткое сообщение обучающегося по теме и результатам работы, характеризующее задачи работы, ее актуальность, полученные результаты, вывод и предложения. (5 мин);
  - ответы обучающегося на вопросы преподавателя.

Порядок проведения оценивания сформированных компетенций в ходе проведения тестирования

Местом проведения компьютерного тестирования являются компьютерные классы университета. Также возможен удаленный доступ (с использованием личного компьютера) к тестам для самопроверки в ЭИОС «Прометей». Графики компьютерного тестирования студентов составляются в соответствии с расписанием учебных занятий, либо в соответствии с указаниями преподавателя в разделах «Объявления» и «Форум» личного кабинета студента в ЭИОС «Прометей».

Содержание тестовых заданий, критерии их оценки, методические рекомендации по их выполнению разрабатываются и утверждаются кафедрами университета. При прохождении компьютерного тестирования, задания для каждого студента выбираются программой случайным образом из общего объема тестовых заданий по дисциплине.

Результат тестирования устанавливается с учетом выбора алгоритма расчета оценки. Тест сдан при условии, если набранные баллы студентом не меньше проходного балла (порога сдачи теста). По окончании работы с тестом студенту предоставляется возможность просмотреть результаты тестирования - количество набранных баллов, перечень вопросов, на которые даны правильные, неправильные и неполные ответы.

Порядок проведения оценивания сформированных компетенций в ходе проведения кейс-задачи.

Приступая к решению кейс-задания, нужно, прежде всего, внимательно прочесть соответствующую главу (или главы) учебника и другую литературу, а также изучить рекомендованные нормативные акты. Рекомендуется использовать электронные библиотечные системы (ЭБС) «Юрайт» и «Biblioclub», а также ЭИОС «Прометей»

Анализ кейса должен осуществляться в определенной последовательности:

- 1. Выделение проблемы.
- 2. Поиск фактов по данной проблеме.
- 3. Рассмотрение альтернативных решений.
- 4. Выбор обоснованного решения.

Порядок проведения оценивания сформированных компетенций в ходе проведения письменной работы

В процессе практического занятия обучающиеся выполняют одну или несколько письменных работ (заданий) под руководством преподавателя в соответствии с изучаемым содержанием учебного материала.

Письменные работы -это различные виды упражнений, задания разной степени сложностей, требующих решение поставленных в них задач таких как: озаглавить смысловые отрезки текста, написать вопросы к тексту ответить письменно на вопросы, составить план сообщения и т.п. Важную обучающую функцию выполняют письменные работы, связанные с прочитанным текстом.

Методика оценивания выполнения письменных работ

Порядок проведения оценивания сформированных компетенций в ходе дискуссии при проведении «круглого стола»

Круглый стол предоставляет возможность участникам обсудить проблему с целью определения возможных путей ее решения, обозначить наличие определенной позиции, теоретических знаний и практического опыта, полученного в процессе изучения дисциплины.

Круглый стол организуется с учетом обсуждения преднамеренно заложенных нескольких точек зрения на один и тот же вопрос, обсуждение которых подводит участников к приемлемым для всех позициям и решениям. Таким образом, неотъемлемым составляющим круглого стола становится: неразрешённый вопрос, равноправное участие представителей всех заинтересованных сторон, выработка приемлемых для всех участников решений по обсуждаемому вопросу.

При проведении круглого стола для достижения положительного результата и создания деловой атмосферы предусматривается:

- оптимальное количество участников и приглашенных;
- оснащение помещения мультимедийными средствами с целью поддержания деловой и творческой атмосферы;
  - устанавливается регламент выступлений (3-5 мин);

— обеспечивается соответствующее оформление аудитории, коммуникации осуществляются «лицом к лицу», что способствует групповому общению и максимальной вовлеченности в дискуссию.

Порядок проведения оценивания сформированных компетенций в ходе защиты презентации

- Процедура защиты презентации представляет собой:

  1. Сочетание устного лекционного материала с демонстрацией слайдов
- 2. Ответы обучающегося на вопросы преподавателя.

Методика оценивания презентаций

Баллы	Оценка	Показатели	Критерии

3-4	«хорошо»		и структурированы
2	«удовлетворительно»		Имеются существенные отступления от требований к презентациям. В частности: тема освещена лишь частично; допущены фактические ошибки в содержании презентаций или при ответе на дополнительные вопросы.
1	«неудовлетворительно»		Тема презентации не раскрыта, обнаруживается существенное непонимание проблемы

Порядок проведения оценивания сформированных компетенций при проведении зачета

Зачет может проходить в форме теста, деловой игры, ответов по билетам либо защиты проекта. Студенты, которые регулярно посещают занятия и имеют хорошую успеваемость, могут получить зачет «автоматом» на последнем занятии. В балльно-рейтинговой системе "автомат" можно получить за счет набранных баллов.
